

The 2013 Sara I. and Albert G Reuben Educational Series

Join in these free monthly educational sessions to learn more about topics relevant to many immigrants and refugees. These community events will be held throughout Indianapolis, and Spanish interpreters will be available.

For more information on these workshops or to reserve your space, please call at (317) 808-2326 or rsvp@immigrantwelcomecenter.org.

Know your Civil Rights in Indiana

What are my rights as an employee?

What if my employer terminated or disciplined me without following their written policies?

How I can file a complaint with the Indiana Civil Rights Commission?

When: Tuesday, May 21st, 6:00 to 7:30 pm

Where: Wesley United Methodist Church / Fellowship Hall
3425 W. 30th Street, Indianapolis, IN 46228
(Enter at double doors off the parking lot)

What: Ms. Ava Y. Taylor and Mr. Brad Meadows of the State of Indiana Civil Rights Commission will explain how the Commission enforces Indiana Civil rights laws and provides services in an effort to ensure equal opportunity for all people living in the State of Indiana and visitors. How the Commission works to eliminate illegal discrimination on the basis of race, religion, color sex, disability, national origin, and ancestry, familial status in the areas of employment, real state, education, public accommodation and credit.

To register for this workshop:

please RSVP at rsvp@immigrantwelcomecenter.org
or call (317) 808-2326

This training is free and open to the public
Light Refreshments available.

Wesley United Methodist Church

The Reuben Educational Series is a legacy of Sara I. Reuben, a first-generation immigrant from Belarus, and Albert G. Reuben, a first-generation American whose family also came from Easter Europe. Longtime Indianapolis residents, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben are an example of how immigrants truly enrich and give back to the community.